Action of Grand Jury as to tax on incomes.

Virginia: At a court held for the county of Accomac, at the court house thereof, by adjournment, on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1893.

The grand jury appeared according to their adjournment and were again sent out of court to their chamber, and after some time returning into court presented in writing the following:

"At a meeting of the grand jury for the county of Accomac, held March 28th, 1893, the following resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of this grand jury that the assessment of taxes on incomes is generally ignored by the citizens of this county, and

Whereas, Upon the examination of numerous witnesses it is shown that the omission is largely due to a misunderstanding of the law. (See chapter 244 Sec. D., page 292 Acts Assembly 1889-90), therefore

Resolved, That this jury is satisfied that a large number of citizens are liable to presentment and indictment for this offence, and suggest in the event of a continuation of this offence that the large property holders of the county, and those who are known to receive incomes in excess of $600, who pay no tax on incomes be summoned before the grand jury.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the PENINSULA ENTERPRISE for three consecutive times.

By order of the grand jury,
SPEAKER F. ROGERS,
J. T. KENNEY, Foreman.
Secretary."

Ordered, that the resolutions presented into court by the grand jury on this day in reference to income taxes be published in the PENINSULA ENTERPRISE as recommended therein.

Anderson, of Pangoteague, who has preached excellent sermons. Presiding Elder Wright and other ministers from a distance are expected to be present and assist in the meetings, which will probably last through the coming week.

Mappsville.

Mr. George Washington Northam has secured the contract for carrying the mails from this place to Hall-wood, for the next four years, beginning in July next.

There is right much complaint of the insufficiency of our oyster police, for the protection of our tongmen's rights against dredgers, as well as to the protection of the rights and property of our State against Maryland's oyster pirates.

Mr. John Carroll, of Glendive, Montana, spent several days in our village recently. He is a gentleman who is well informed upon general topics and very pleasantly entertained our people with stories of the mines, the cowboys and wild western life generally.

Mr. Wm. Hall is making preparations to build a dwelling on his recent purchase above this place. Oswald Mason will build a dwelling on his farm near here. Capt. Charles Wessels will soon replace his burnt house with quite a handsome structure, and Mr. Robert Groten will also build a new dwelling near here soon—and thus passeth away last year's potato money.

Rev. J. L. King, with Mr. William Walsh and daughter, Miss Laura, have returned from quite a pleasant trip to New York. Mr. Walsh having been for years a resident of that city and being well acquainted with many of its officials, our visiting party were enabled by their courtesy and kindness to see New York as few strangers are able to see. Captain Copeland, of the city police force, was especially attentive to them, placing at their service one of the city's steamers, from whose decks they viewed the statue of Liberty, the great Brooklyn bridge, the monster Greyhounds that line its piers, and hundreds of other interesting objects from the Palisades on the west, to the Hell Gates on the east.

The acreage of strawberries to be planted in this vicinity will far exceed that of even last year.

Conquest Chapel M. P. church, which was burned November 21st, will be rebuilt at an early date.

The road from this place to Messengo Bridge is conceded to be the worst in the county even by the drummers, and they should know.

Our town is not yet finished. Mrs. Mary Nock is now erecting a residence on the lot recently purchased of Mr. J. I. Northam and others will probably be erected in the near future.

Our popular night operator Mr. J. T. Lewis, has left us to accept the position of operator and assistant agent at Salisbury, Md. He is succeeded by Mr. T. E. Ralph, of New Church.

The shipments of oysters from this station have been far in excess of any previous year. A large portion of them were shipped during the January freeze and netted the shippers handsome sums.

In the last issue of the ENTERPRISE, the statements made by your Hall-wood correspondent, relative to the postoffice at this place, are void of truth, and to the uninformed so liable to be accepted as facts, that the truth loving citizens of this town pronounce them to be without any foundation, and if necessary we can produce unimpeachable testimony to prove what we assert, viz: an intent to deceive the public.

Chincoteague.

Our M. P. Sunday school will have an Easter service in their church Sunday night, for home missions.

Mr. Field Turlington and Mrs. Rebecca Jeffreys were married March 22nd, Rev. Mr. Sanford officiating.

The schooner L. B. Chandler, worth $2500, and owned by W. J. Matthews, this place, went ashore on Hog Island on 24th of March and is a total loss. She was loaded with oysters for L. Gum & Co., Fair Haven, Conn. The Life Saver crew went to the rescue of the crew of the schooner and stayed by the boat until the morning before they were able to take them off, on account of the high winds and darkness.

The crew of the schooner J. M. Price arrived home on 21st inst. They were taken off their boat on the 3rd day after they were blown out to sea, and taken to Liverpool. All their feet and hands were frosted when rescued and they had clung to the rigging for the three days without water or food. The Captain has given a lecture at the Beulah Baptist church since his return, concerning the disaster.

The District Deputy Grand Master of Masons for the Eastern Shore of Virginia will visit Chincoteague Island on Friday, April 7th, to institute the Masonic lodge, which has been working since last May under a dispensation and which was granted a charter by the Grand Lodge at its last session. It is expected that a large number of brethren, representing every lodge in the district will be present. The Lodge here has been named Accomac Lodge, and its membership is steadily increasing.

Temperanceville
Mrs. E. C. Jacobs and Miss Theodora Watson spent last week in Baltimore.

Our public schools will close about the 21st of April. This includes the time lost on account of bad weather.

Mr. A. S. Matthews represented Relief Lodge A. O. U. W., at the Grand Lodge, which met in Baltimore, last week.

The choral services at the M. E. Church, South, last Sunday, were beautified by the addition of two tenor solos, beautifully rendered by Mr. L. Massey.

This place is steadily growing, as well in business enterprises as in size. Several of our enterprising business men are discussing the practicability of starting a large cannery establishment here, probably at an early date.

Wachapreague.
At the regular communication of Ocean Lodge, A. F. & A. M., held in their hall here on Wednesday last, Mr. Arthur M. Nottingham was initiated an entered apprentice.

Candidates for the office of constable lately made a descent upon our sovereigns. A platform was improvised for their convenience and the fur soon began to fly. Only five, so far, have signified their willingness to abide by the primary.

Two colored citizens of the town accepted an invitation of a white man a few days ago to monkey with a pint and a half of new whiskey each. They passed from the hands of the bar-keeper to the doctor, and the result was extremely doubtful for several hours.

One dark and stormy night last week Mr. Colie Chambers stole into the town under cover of darkness and kidnapped one of our fair daughters. The obdurate parent had relaxed her vigilance so that the task was more easily accomplished than had been expected. Sympathetic female friends supplied all deficiencies in the matter of bridal trousseau, and with bated breath and nervous fingers arrayed her for the journey. The start for Gretna Green was made at 9:30 via the N. Y. & P. road to Pocomoke, and accomplished successfully—and all has been forgiven.

Trial of Non-Residents for Taking Oysters in Virginia Waters.

The time of the trial of indictments against Robert L. Wharton and Severn H. Nelson, Crisfield, charged with taking oysters in Pocomoke Sound south of the Black and Jenkins line, set for this term of the court, was postponed by agreement between Mr. Thos. S. Hodson, counsel for the accused, and Jas. H. Fletcher, Jr., attorney for the Commonwealth, with the approval of Judge Gillet, to the third day of the next term of the county court, April 26th. In the hearing of the cases, it is stated, that Messrs. Hodson and Attorney-General Poe, of Maryland, (who is also to be present), will admit that Wharton and Nelson dredged south of the Black and Jenkins line, but will claim that they had the right to do so, and that no law can prohibit them unless passed by the Legislature of both States. They hope to sustain their claim before our court under a clause in the compact of 1783, but failing to do so, it is stated, the cases will be taken to the United States court.
